THE CHURCH COLLEGE OF WESTERN SAMOA

DEDICATED TO BRO ED KEALOHA KAMAUOHA

Please Faaliga wake us up when you're done....

"All you Monkey fuia's, listen to me!"

It is Neither titles, wealth, nor appointed lustre which shall be the measure of a man in the final Estate, but rather his compassion, humility, and unselfish service to his fellow man which he will be remembered for on this world, and exalted for in the next.

As a teacher and administrator, he never compromised his principles, and taught us not only in the secular subjects which embrace modern education, but also taught us the higher concepts of the spiritual condition through his example and fortitude.

Brother Kamaui has been an active member of our school system, spending his life in the strive to improve the life and minds of the younger generation of our country in order to attain a more secure future. He was an exceptional servant of the Lord and member of the church, never faltering in his faith as he went about his "Father's business". This year, our annual school Yearbook, Ata Lafoia 1995, is dedicated to the life and memory of Bro Ed Kealohe Kama,, "as in a comma of a sentence" Uo..." as in when you stop a horse" Ha... "as in ha, ha, ha" whose serious demeanour never cloaked his humanity and sense of humour.

As a member of this Earth, he has surely left a straight and glowing path for us all to follow, and our world is all the better for having had Bro. Kamaui among its citizens.

*"Of dreams once dreamed
And tears seldom wept
through Memories we shall remember
The promises which we've kept
Her smile once so sweet
With tenderness you cannot meet
A loving friend was she
A sacred sister she was to me
Fate has taken her away from us
Leaving us to ponder about the past
But deep in our hearts we shall remember her
Her Kindness
Her talents
Her wishes
and her dreams
Remember her we shall.....
Loving memories we shall give
For the life she had to live!*

Message from the Principal

I commend members of the Yearbook Staff for their expertise in the compilation of this colourful issue of the Ata Lafoia. It reflects much hard labour and concerted effort of teachers and students who take pride in their school and highly value this product of their own thoughtfulness.

Time changes and we with time. Irrespective of numerous changes that have taken place, the Church College of Western Samoa maintains its unique mission - to provide quality education and to constantly strive and make it for the best. That we should not forget who we are, because we, ourselves, not the change, determines how far and how best we aspire to be.

No work is the product of one man. It represents the culmination of the kind and professional support of many. I would like to express gratitude and love to all our school administrators, teachers and support staff for their untiring and selfless service. I thank them for their professional advice, timely encouragements, and camaraderie.

My deep and sincere appreciation is extended to the parents for their support as they are much a part of this learning community. We honor them for their commitment and moral support of the school and its activities.

I especially express my sincere love for our students and let them know of how important it is for them to obtain a quality education, one that is based on principles of honesty, hard work and self responsibility. As students actively participate in the learning process, they will develop into thoughtful life-long learners, and become authors of their own lives. To all our senior students, as you now go out into the world, remember to be the best of whatever you are and that which you would like to become. I alert you to the counsel of President Thomas S. Monson:

*"Do what you ought to do,
Say what you ought to say,
Be where you ought to be,
Be what you ought to be.*

*As we join in the celebrations of our achievements and successes this year has brought, they are but stepping stones to build upon for challenges of the years that lie ahead.
Faafetai ma faamalo mo galuega lelei uma.*

CCWS TEACHERS DAY

Friday 6 October 1995

Speech

by: Christina Mauigoa

Dear Teachers,

We don't have words to help us say, how we thank you, on this your very special day. If we could see within your hearts, we'll know that in your lives, we're such vital parts. You fill each day with gladness, you fill each day with gladness, through acts of loving care. So kind and thoughtful always, you're all in our prayers. God bless you Teachers, may you have joy through all your years. May there always be special memories and seldom tears. May our lives a worthy tribute be, to you dear Teachers, for all you made us see.

Principal Doctor Tavana, Distinguished Guests, Administrators,
Students and especially to all the teachers "Talofa".

As we may have learned that this day is a special day for all the teachers around the world. This is the day we recognize all the hard work you teachers have done for us.

"What is this business of a teacher really like?"

A teacher has a lot of qualities which determines his task.

They are: Intelligent, helpful, loving, trustworthy, experienced, honest, friendly, patient, fun, willing

Teachers can be strict, easy to work with and many other fine qualities I have not mentioned. We see these qualities in our teachers here. We have seen and appreciated what they had done for us. I have worked with a lot of good teachers, and they have helped me in so many ways.

I remembered one day I had to write a speech for my English teacher. To help me with my speech, I asked one of my other teachers. Did she refuse? "No" she willingly accepted my plea and gave me a lot of notes which made my speech one of the successful ones in my class. Now, that shows the quality of being helpful and loving in a teacher. Sometimes, when I go to my 5th period class that's after lunch, and if my teacher sees me rushing to class while she is walking down the corridor, she would call out to race me to the class. We would then start running immediately laughing together all the way. This shows the quality of "friendliness" and a "good sense of humour" in a teacher.

I know that all of us students have experienced a memorable moment with our teachers. That really shows how they really feel towards us and that is 'LOVE'. At times we may think that this teacher is too strict or mean but the reason they may act like that is because they love us, and they want us to succeed in life. I know this for a fact because almost everyday, my teachers always say, "Your future relies on what you do now". They do care and that is why this day is special.

Today, we would like to thank all the teachers for the effort and the hard work. We appreciate all the many things you've done for us. You are important to us, the students and we know that we are also important to you, because what really makes a school? It's the teachers and students working together, teaching one another. We are also thankful for all your precious time spared for us. Especially thank you for your loving hearts and accepting us as your students. We will always cherish the memorable times we shared together, and we will never forget what we learned from all of you individually. We love you all and "Happy Teachers Day" Soifua!

"Teacher Day Assembly"

As usual we assembled into the gym for the assembly. I thought it was going to be boring but I was to be prove wrong.

We began to assembly with a song and prayer as we normally do. I wasn't very interested at first but then after the teachers were presented leis by Year 13. Christina and Junior (A.K.A "Juice") gave heartwarming speeches, thanking the teachers for their great work, help and encouragement, bringing some of the teachers to tears. I don't know if their tears were tears of either gratitude or happiness but I'm sure I'll never know. Following the speeches was a sweet song sung by Ofeira Ah Loo (This song was so sweet that the teachers cried even more) I had listened intantly to the words of the song and marvelled as to who could have found the perfect words to express our feelings.

Bishop William Brown a former student of C.C.W.S who now looked atleast fortiesh gave a speech. I must namely admit that I hadn't listened to his speech as I couldn't find it interesting but Bro Tavana stole all my attention with his survey. (He was explaining the Results) It was a survey on the teachers based mainly on the C.C.W.S. students opinions.

In the end there was a closing hymn and prayer and everyone was dismissed. I walked to class pondering at what had taken place in our assembly and grateful that I had so may teachers who cared. (Cheri Robinson).

CCWS TEACHERS' DAY

Bro Barnes, Bro Wong can you please hurry up.....I'm falling asleep here with nothing to eat!

Bro Lolo... I'm FBI Vole and you are a suspect for a killing which took place in your classroom!

Bro. Wright to Sis Wright, let's go beat up the other coaches of the other teams..... and get our trophy back.....too

Having fun Sis Ah Hoy & Sis, Ras.....

For today, is the day God hath appointed especially for our dear teachers. Today is special because we respect and give thanks to all our teachers. Thank you teachers.

One of the greatest aspects of my life is becoming a Teacher.

There are three types of teachers.....

- * Teachers who make things happen
- * Teachers who watch what happens
- * Teachers who wondered what happened.

Now, a teacher must cause things to happen and live to be affective. Something should move and change. A teacher must see that those under them do not Fail. But it should be done in the Lord's way. A teacher should be the instrument in the hands of the almighty for changing lives..... Through personal contacts a teacher can accomplish this by:

1. Inspire and Motive. They should make the students feel that they care and encourage them to work hard.
2. Teach by Example and Principle
3. Trust

4. Be generous with appreciation. (kind & thankful)

I've learned that encouragement from a good teacher can really turn a student's life around.

A quote From Howard Newton: "Students Forget how fast you did a Job, but they remember how well you did it."

(D & C 50: 22 - 24) "Wherefore, he that preacheth and he that receiveth, understand one another, and both are edified and rejoice together.

And that which doth not edify is not of god, and is darkness. That which is of God is light, and he that receiveth light, and continueth in God, receiveth more light, and that light groweth brighter and brighter intil the perfect day."

I would like to show a sincere thanks and appreciation to all of you teachers on behalf of the students of Church College of Western Samoa for the great and hard work, and time you have put in for each of us students. We also thank you for your support, love, care and kindness you have shown to us all these years you have been here.

Happy Teachers Day,

I love you all in the name of Jesus Christ Amen.....

MOST PREFERRED DANCE Night of Royalty

So which one is it?

You can tell the King's crown is a fake!!

I think Opeta fancies you Davina!!

Hey, hands off, he ain't yours

It's a match!!

Faalima still can't believe it!

Stick dat tongue in boy you still have the whole night to experience

MOST PREFERRED DANCE

Night of Royalty

Taimi just can't get enough of Angie

Ini, mini, miny, mo give me the one that can really blow!!

This is the way we wash our hands.....

Isn't it a bit too early for that!!

Hey Ti'a, where's da wife?

The King stands by his "future mother in law"

Night of Royalty

'Vote for Chris Schmidt', 'Vote for Spencer', 'Faalima for Queen', 'Chris Nautu for King'

These signs and posters covered the high school wall from top to bottom, students busy persuading others to vote for who and who for king and for queen. The king and queen for "The Night of Royalty". The most preferred dance, the night everyone is looking forward to, the dance of all dances, it was The Night.

Never before had the gym been so inviting, all due to the artistic minds and creativity of the 'decorating committee' who we all agree had done a marvellous job. Heading the night with the perfect theme 'Masterpiece in You'. As the students entered into the gym, assured with ties and dress pants for the boys and prudish dresses for the girls. We were all proud to have the head-boys and head-girls able to attend our dance and witness the crowning ceremony. Shortly after, the ceremony began, concluding with the fourth runners up being Christina and Junior, third Bessie and Chris. N. second Davina ana Opeti, first Chris. S. and Lei and our King and Queen for 1995 was Spencer and Faalima. Wow! What a night. The music went on forever, the food vanished and though the heat was unbearable, that didn't stop us from enjoying that night - and that's exactly what we did!!

SAMANTHA'S SPEECH (2nd Place)

"My dear child, Life was not meant to be easy. Violence is a part of life and once it increases it becomes the weakness within a man until "he" is no longer able to control himself.

Every man is the architect of his own future and thus he can bring unto himself the life of cruelty, suffering, jealousy and inner turmoil, no longer able to solve a problem through the normal method of negotiation. He has completely lost himself to his weakness both in body and spirit, sometimes even to the extent of using Physical Force!

Words, ladies and gentlemen, wisely spoken by an elder of our Samoan Society of today.

Honourable judges, distinguished guests, teachers, ladies and gentlemen. My chosen topic for today is "VIOLENCE" it springs from lack of self control.....

Once, a wise man said, you do not love until you bear with all the faults of men. Today, I say, you do not live until you bear with all the faults of life. Violence was created by man to get his own way or to solve his problems. We all experience different types of violence sometime in our lives and it shows how man is not "yet perfect". There have been many causes of violence but psychological theory believes it to have been produced by our social learning. "Social Learning" is the learning behaviour that is controlled by environmental influences" rather than by innate or internal forces. When children watch others they learn many forms of behaviour such as sharing, aggression, "Learning experiences" offered by popular television shows and motion pictures containing violent behaviour is extraordinary. Violence as quoted in the beginning of my speech becomes the weakness within a man, it is where a person is no longer able to solve a problem through the normal method of negotiation and as a result he/she resorts to violent emotional outbursts and the use of Physical Force. These three aspects are of my main concern.

Now what do I mean by becomes the weakness within a man? Violence, for example, can cause a man to come home drunk and then begins to beat up his wife and children, losing all sense of self-control. He cannot think straight and when he awakes the next morning he sees his family bruised and abused, "sometimes" even forgetting what he's done the night before. He gave in to his temptation and therefore was weakened to the extent of not being able to control his actions.

Violence if given a definition is where a person is no longer able to solve a problem through the normal method of negotiation. This puts plainly to the human brain a strong meaning of VIOLENCE..... This is proven so by a certain case which happened in New Zealand, not long ago. A Samoan woman, I repeat, a Samoan woman deliberately beat up a teenage boy who was not of any relation to her and what made it worse was she made other teenagers join in the beating of this one boy. Just this one boy. She did not even stop to think of talking to the boy or figuring things out without the use of violence. Her idea of DISCIPLINE is nothing other than emotional outbursts leading to the overuse of "physical violence".....

"Physical Violence" is where a person cannot control his or her own emotions and resorts to the use of BRUTE STRENGTH to get his or her own way. Many problems develop from such form of violence because people cannot control their actions.

TWO EXAMPLES of such causes "have" happened here in Western Samoa. Yes "here" My first example is where a Malifa teacher deliberately hit a girl with a stick and permanently blinded her, and for what? For what do I ask you? To discipline her? Does such discipline have to lead to the loss of a child's sight? This is well known as CORPORAL PUNISHMENT within the schools.

My next example takes us to an article written in the local newspaper. I read of a child who died when arriving at the hospital because he was beaten by his parent, and for what? How could a child, in this case a BABY, a baby so small ever be able to defend himself. This is well known as "CHILD ABUSE" I mean really think about it. No, really, really think about it. A small child compared to an adult parent. Could a child, so small and innocent, cause so much anger within a person that he/she would be severely beaten up, even to the extent of DEATH? No longer able to take another breath or to live in this world again.....? A CHILD ..., a child..... a child.....

Violence causes all of these problems, violence corrupts, violence even kills. Ask yourselves this question, would you ever want to be the one at the end of a violent persons anger? I know, I wouldn't, I wouldn't!!! Remember violence, or the use of physical force is a weakness, it is a result of not being able to solve a problem through the normal method of negotiation. We have to withstand these problems for it is a part of life but a flaw in life which can be lived without. Violence, is it good or bad? I believe it is bad because it only destroys. Does it spring from lack of self control? Yes, it does, because it shows how people are unable to discipline themselves and control their actions. Violence comes within you and only You can solve it. It is not an easily solved problem but STRUGGLE, WORK HARD, PERSEVERE and you WILL SUCCEED.

Remember violence is REALITY and in REALITY it is a problem that needs to be solved.

Thank you and Soifua.

NATIONAL SCIENCE COMPETITION 1995

Science Project.

My science project was about "What do plants eat?"

I did my project about what kinds of nutrients the plants need to grow properly. For this project I had a lot of help from my father. I grew 3 corn plants, one was without nitrogen, one was without Phosphorus and one had all the nutrients and showed what happen when a plant lacks one of the essential nutrients. I was very nervous and was afraid the judges would ask hard questions. I was judged by three judges. I did well with two of them but the third judge asked me some hard questions which I could not answer. When it was the time to give the prizes out, I was very proud to hear that CCWS got 3 prizes. Doing a science project is really fun and I hope that next year a lot of students of this school participate in the Science Fair.

Shanika Yapa

Science Project.

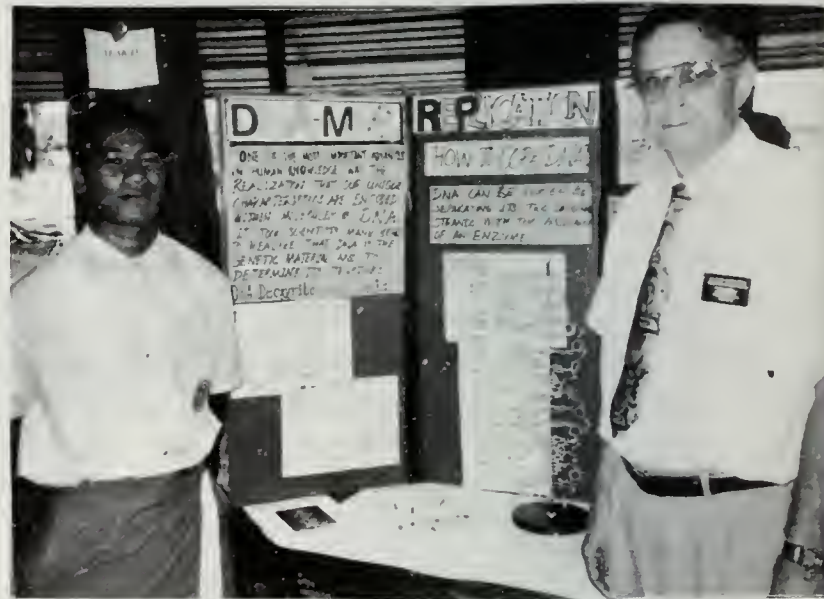

It was a rainy day and I still had to get everything ready for my project. The process of "PERFUME-MAKING" was all I have to think about or else I'd forget an important fact. It was time for judging and my heart began to beat faster.

The first judge came up to me and asked me questions. I was very nervous but I tried my best to explain the things I'd learned about my project. People seemed to be more interested, and they kept on asking more questions. Even though the work was hard, we still had fun with students from other schools.

Students - Wow! I wish I was in the High Honour Society

I'm not prepared!... Um... um....What seems to be the problem..... is it Sis Fepuleai or you?

Sis Liu having a problem with her eyes.... or Is Selby too Close

My feelings about our High Honour and Honour students assembly was great pride. Pride in the achievements for chemistry as well as in the amount of honour and high honour students. Although It was a small number compared to the whole school I felt proud of the students of honour and high honour roll because it showed how hard they worked last term. Usually the achievements of the children has never been noticed until now.

It is good to see that teachers as well as our principal have taken the time to take recognition of these students.

FLOWER PARADE

It was a lovely morning, flowers all around town, people waiting for the Parade to start. We had to wait for the Police Band to arrive to start the Parade. Cars and Trucks were fully decorated with flowers of different kinds. The Parade which started from the Vaisigano Bridge was so colourful with all different types of flowers, and especially the participants uniforms, they were so lovely.

The Police band led the Parade while the Mighty "CCWS BAND" wagged the tail. They started marching while both marching bands were blowing out what they could. They had to march all the way to the old Market and back to the front of the government building before the parade ended. As we passed by Molesi and in the front of Caruthers Ice Cream store, they were all decorated with flowers and colorful painted posters of flowers. The NPF building was so beautiful with flowers. September 15th, this was the big day for all our young gifted entertainers, the jazz band, choir, flag-girls and showcase. This was when parents, teachers, friends and who knows who else were to witness our extravagant performers. Those who were to be in "The Music Concert". At 6.00pm ushers arrived at the already prepared gymnasium to assure the seating arrangements and secure the VIP section for our guests. By 7:00 spectators had begun to fill the seats. Excitement was in the air and you could see the nervousness on the faces of the directors and entertainers. Finally it began. After a word of prayer, the beautiful voices of the choir and eager sounds of the band stirred up the crowd. The audience was delighted. Performances by the flag-girls and a few numbers by trios and duets went smoothly, followed by showcase featuring the different cultures of the Pacific. The sounds of "TOFA MY FELENI" meant that the night had come to a conclusion, and with the closing prayer, viewers went their separate ways, with the memory of the spectacular presentation that night.

CCWS 1995 RUGBY HERO

PLAYERS PROFILE

Fereti Fereti knocks on Manu Samoa door

What was once a longnurtured dream for Fereti Fereti to become a Manu Samoa one day may be happening sooner than expected. Ever since the Manu Samoa broke onto the international scene in the late 80's that culminated with a brilliant performance in the 91 World Cup, the youngster was so fascinated by the team's success that he'd made a vow to his mother, Fa'afete, that one day he would make her proud by being a member of the national team.

He did everything any dedicated player with a burning desire would do to reach that goal and he's flourished nicely in the past several years.

He's one of four new players in the Manu Samoa training squad with Onehunga Mata'utia, Ioane Va'alotu, and Siaki Elisara who are puffing it with the big boys ahead of the team selection on 27th September.

Fereti was part of the winning schoolboy selection who won the 93 Central Region schools tournament in New Zealand before he made the team who were runner-up to the New Zealand Northern Region at the inaugural Pacific Rim tournament in Fiji last year.

Returning from the Under 21 international tournament in Wellington early this year where he played wing, Fereti captained the Western Samoa Under 19 squad to the second Pacific Rim tournament in Fiji two weeks ago. He played second five in the first game, fullback against Fiji, outside center in the next game and wing in the finals. While he was away, he was awarded Player of the Year by his Apia Sports

Club.

Fereti currently enjoys a fully paid year-long sports scholarship at the Church College of Western Samoa in Pesega and he's the main reason why the CCWS senior boys came second to St Josephs College at the schools champion of champions athletics competition in July. He's the national schools sprints champion with a time of 10.8 at the 100 meters while he also excels in most other sports. The downside to such an extensive sports participation according to the 19 year old is told on his school grades."

Said Fereti" That's the sad part of the story. I've had one of the most satisfying years as a sports man but the disruptions has affected my grades. I don't mind repeating because I think my school could put me up for another year, but I'd hate to put up with the extra bother."

He said it wasn't hard to make a decision between union professionalism and league when the two broke on the scene at the same time.

"I've got to admit that league did cross my mind in terms of securing one's financial future if I'm good at it, but professional rugby now offers similar opportunities at something one is good at doing. I've always dreamed about making the Manu Samoa but now I can even think of making a career out of rugby afterwards in either coaching or some other capacity now that administrators are also getting paid. There's a lot happening at rugby (union) which may just turn out alright in the end," said Fereti.

One of the things happening on the home front is a personal invitation by the Australian Under 19 coach to call him up

*Promising rugby player
Fereti Fereti*

if he's interested in playing for one of the school teams in Australia. There is also pressure from his father in New Zealand to come play his rugby in Auckland where the competition is extensive.

His idols are Brian Lima - "a great finisher," To'o Vaega - "deceptive but humble," Andy Aiolupo - "he stuck with rugby through thick and thin,"

Siaosi Va'ili and Quentin Sanft - "the key players who got the goods for Northern Region at the Pacific Rim tournament." Still the lure of the Manu Samoa jumper remains the strongest force the Year 13 student has to contend with while awaiting the results of the final exams later this year.

"To repeat or not to repeat" which may or may not turn out to be Fereti's rallying cry when report cards are handed out at the end of the school year, but the new twist in his budding career has thrown a new dimension is his eventful young life. One thing is certain. If he's drafted into the Manu Samoa at his age, he'll be one of the youngest recruits into the national team since his idol, Brian Lima, was drafted at 19.

CCWS PRINCIPAL RECEIVES SPECIAL RECOGNITION

Local Wins Academic Award

Namulauulu Dr Gaugau Tavana with his Brigham Young University professors, Vance Randall and Steven Hite, after the presentation of his award

Namulauulu Dr Gaugau Tavana of the Church College of Western Samoa has been honoured in America as the winner of a doctoral dissertation award, ahead of over 1,000 others.

Namulauulu received the "Outstanding dissertation of the Year Award" from Division G (Social Context of Education) of the American Education Research Association (AREA) in San Francisco.

His winning dissertation was entitled: "Cultural values relating to education in Western Samoa: A conceptual analysis of the perspectives of Samoan social leaders."

AERA has about 20,000 members, which makes it the largest research association in the United States and possibly the world.

According to the chairwoman of the awards committee, Dr Mary Brenner, six finalists were selected from those who entered the award.

"(The) committee was very impressed with Dr Tavana's work and was unanimous in its choice," she said. Professor Steven Hite, who served as chair and advisor to Namulauulu's doctoral studies, said the award was a major honour and richly deserved.

"Through his dedication to his people in Samoa, scholarly ideals and hard work, this award brings well-deserved focus and honor upon himself and Western Samoa." Namulauulu received his Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) at Brigham Young University last April. His prize-winning dissertation is based on the premise that contemporary Samoa is at a cultural, philosophical, and education crossroads.

"There is an indigenous culture with attendant traditions, mores and protocols which the majority of Samoan people acknowledge as being of great value and are highly desirous of preserving" it reads.

"Many aspects of the extant culture, however, have been significantly influenced by the dual phenomena of early European colonialism and recent technological proliferation which have inevitably served to hybridize its religious, economic, social, and political character.

"The climate of flux has generated a conflict in the attitude and perspective of the Samoan people-how much of the old should be extolled and maintained and how much of the new must be adopted and integrated...."

Namulauulu is originally from the village of Saipipi Savaii. He has been a school teacher, principal, researcher, lecturer, and is currently serving as the Director of Curriculum and Teacher Development for the L.D.S. Church Schools Samoa. (The previous story appeared in the Samoa Sunday Observer, 14 May 1995).

CCWS COUNSELOR AWARDED BY HEAD OF STATE OF W. SAMOA

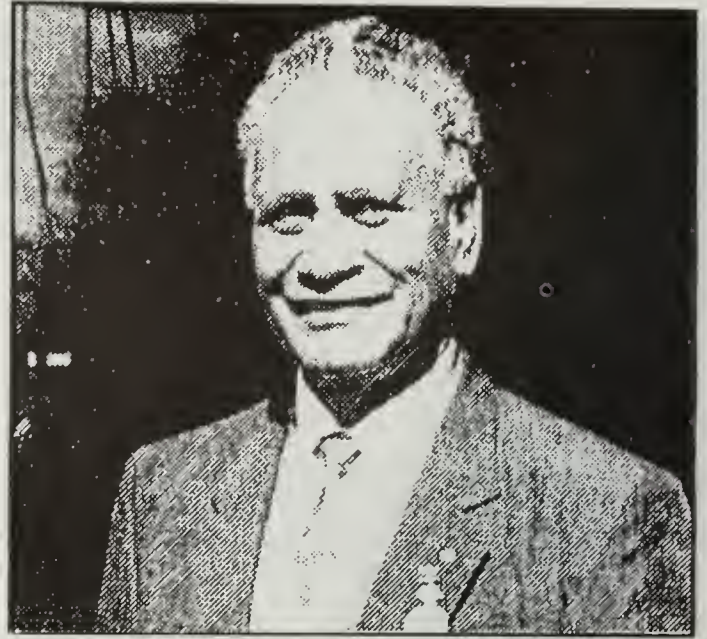

Member is honored by government leader

Tufuga Samuelu Atoa of the Pesega 5th Ward, Pesega Samoa Stake, was awarded the Western Samoa Order of Merit in June by Head of State Malietoa Tanumafili II.

Brother Atoa was honored in recognition of a lifetime of outstanding service to the people of Western Samoa.

For the past 40 years, Brother Atoa has shown "tireless commitment and personal devotion to the development and promotion" of sports in his homeland. In 1994 he was presented with the Distinguished Service Award by the Western Samoa Sports Federation and the National Olympic Committee. Brother Atoa currently represents his country at the planning meetings for the 1996 Summer Olympic Games in Atlanta.

The honored sportsman has also had a long and distinguished career as a public servant. As chairman of the Public Service Commission, Brother Atoa aided Western Samoa on its road to political and administrative independence, and has also served on the board of the National University of Samoa, as government director of Polynesian Airlines Limited, and as director of the Western Samoa Development Bank. Brother Atoa holds a bachelor's degree in education from BYU.

Tufuga Samuelu Atoa

Brother Atoa's many civic responsibilities have been balanced with many years of dedicated Church service. He has twice served as a regional representative and has been a temple president, stake president and bishop. Brother Atoa is presently a temple sealer and is national director of public affairs. He and his wife, Helen, have five children and eight grandchildren.

TWO FORMER CCWS STUDENTS TAKE NAIA HONOURS

Two former pupils of CCWS have won another NAIA (National Association of Inter Collegiate Athletics) tennis crown for Brigham Young University in Hawaii.

Maylani Ah Hoy and Anneli Ornstedt beat opponents Shu Ping Lin and Yu Hsien 6-4, 6-1 to win the women's doubles titles at the NAIA tennis championships late last month in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Ah Hoy, daughter of Poao and Atalina Ah Hoy, is a former Western Samoa women's singles champion who has represented this country at the South Pacific Games.

Meanwhile Van Wright, a student from Western Samoa who is presently attending Kahuku High School in Hawaii, won the Hawaii All State High School Golf Championships last month.

Wright, the son of Aleki and June Wright of Lotopa, graduated from the high school last week.

He will go on to attend the University of Hawaii in September.

TEACHERS PICNIC DAY

(Matareva)

On a bright & early Saturday Morning the teachers and staff of C.C.W.S set out with their children on a beach trip to their set destination Matareva Beach.

Preparatlons were made the night before, so everybody was ready with their towels, sunscreen, hats and of course plenty of food for the big day.

Even though the ride to the beach was very tiring and long once the cars stopped and parked under the cool shade of the Palm trees, everybody even the oldies were all over the sand in their bermuda shorts ready to be attacked by the sun. Everyone was occupied and enjoying themselves, the children were in the sea splashing around, play silly games. The boys playing football and tackle rugby with the male teachers. Those who didn't want to get all bruised and batted up, settled for a friendly game of volleyball, with the girls. As the women, some female teachers, well like all women do, they were busy yapping away about the latest news in Samoa and boasting about their husbands.

After a good solid two hours of fun and games everybody headed up to the Samoan hut where all the food had been prepared by some teachers and staff members. There was so much food everyone just kept coming back for more.

Soon all the food had disappeared and the beach was scattered with teachers and staff members digesting for a good 20minutes before cooling off in the beach, packing up their gear, and setting off back home to make plans for their Teuia Week Holiday.

Looks like there's no competition when it comes to Sis Simi's side!

Hey Sis Vaiaoga aren't you meant to Volley the ball. That's why they call it Volleyball

Bro Stevenson can really pump the ball

Elder Barnes, still praying or is he crying cause no one will let him play?

Now we know why our CCWS faculty went to the beach. To get a tan!!

Sis Talataina - Hey, I'm tryin to eat! At least have the brain to let me know first....

Someone's pretty stingy with the tomato saucell

TREES

Swaying Swaying Swaying
It's branches dancing to the beat of the wind
Not fully developed
Enjoying the feeling of SPRING

Summer

Blossoms turn into fruit
The leaves, a green to envy
Providing victuals for all living inhabitants
Dreading the thought of the following seasons.....

Autumn

The craved green is envied no more
Golden browns and yellows fall to the ground
All withered up and dry
Falling Falling Falling

Winter

Drifting snow clustering up on the stiff bare branches
The golden floor turns to white
No birds chirping
No sun shining
The tree suffering immensely
Days seem as long as years. But slowly
Even though unnoticed
A new season is about to dawn.....

TUITOGAMATOE HICKS

DRUGS

Drugs are a bad thing to do
It may affect your family and you
If you smoke and drink beer
You don't have to do it over here
We are the children of the Lord
We do not do those kinds of things at all
Drugs is not a future for you
Because the end of that
The Police will get rid of you.....

HEINZ FRETTON

THE FARMER

Think about a Lawn-Mower
Pull the choker and let it roar
Make it see that you are friendly
Only by pushing it very gently
Observe how hard it keeps up with the work
Very industrious and really, it ain't no Jerk
That is exactly what and never cease.
No matter how tough it seems to be
As a farmer, My crops are most important to me
Like an ant, he is never tired.
But happily he works as killing a fire
That's the kind of life a farmer lives
But that's not all; he also generously gives

CLEOPATRA MUAVAA

THE FARMER

Out in the field he works all day
Plowing soil, planting seeds
In the hot sun he slaves away
Only at noon does he get his feed
Then back to work to grow his crops
A busy bee sucking nectar from the flower
Working hard and never seeming to stop
But keeps going on hour after hour
Like an ant with true dedication
To search for his food, water and meals
Ignoring whatever pain he feels

PROMISE

I'll be by your side
I'll be by your side

When you're hurt or in pain

I'll be by your side
Like sky is to blue
I'll be by your side
Our friendship strong and true

I'll be by your side
When tears come trickling down
I'll be by your side
To pick you off the ground

I'll be by your side
And keep this promise to you
I'll be by your side
If you'll be by mine too.

NUCLEAR BOMB

Like the love of a secret admirer
Hidden from the rest of the world
Never seen, Never heard, though existing
Will it matter to her what happens?

The love he has is untouched like a fresh rose
Suddenly he is pricked by the sharp thorn
Without warning..... bleeding flowingly
Pleading..... Begging her
Deliberately stabbing him with intent

Finally, he cries out
Finally revealing his deepest feelings
Pleading..... Begging her
She in turn glares at him with cold eyes
Never looking back again
His heart pierced with a blade so sharp
Scattering his feelings and destroying his life.

Phaedra Moors

PEACE -

Quietly as I sit and lay
And give thanks while I pray
No children, no noise whatsoever
I wish it could wait forever

As long as time will let me
I will sit in silence and be free
Of all troubles and toils
Which makes your want to boil
Peace and equality
Problems which shall never be

Crystal Slade

ALWAYS AND FOREVER

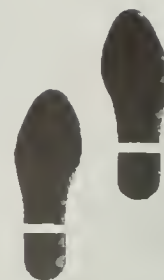

Always and forever,
Just like a dream come true
I found a friend, a true friend in you
You're there for me everyday
When I'm in trouble you're on your way
You are truly my brother
I love you more than any other
You are my friend always true
My friend Nu

ADDICTED

If higher learning was easier for me
The future would be doubtlessly work-free
Taking life one step at a time
Caring not of anyone else's except mine

If education, had in it a little pleasure
It would have me craving for more
Striving to find it at any cost
From dusk til dawn, til I'm weary and sore

If I was the addict here,
And this was my drug,
Higher and higher, knowing not fear,
Deeper in my heaven, cozy and snug.
.....Addicted..... (Phaedra Moors)

LADYHAWKE
DAYLIGHT.....
Her wings take a graceful flight.
Up, Up, upon the mountain height
Eyes piercing, Feathers ruffled
Never will you see her turn back
Ever, again
By Night..... She is a totally different person
Eagle to human
Life, lonely and unbelieving
A tale of melodies told and past
She stands..... Her wings to hands.....
Feathers to skin.....

Images of dreams dreamed and feelings felt.
Gracefully she walks to her destiny
There is no time left to speak
The sun rises and slowly she changes
Daylight..... A scream pierces the sky
Far.....Far.....Away she flies.....
(Samantha Marfleet)

A TURTLE
Each step she takes, takes her nearer to fate
Each egg she lays, only a few will stay
Alone on the beach, she moves closer to reach
Destiny call, she cannot stall
For it is time to move on, the past has gone.
(Samantha Marfleet)

MEN
Who does he think he is?
What nerve? What a!
All men are rated from one to ten
But let me warn you
Whether friend or foe
You will never know
They can rip your heart out
To the very spout
And can leave you lying about
Their wishes are simple
Yet never so nimble
And they leave you as soon as they find a pimple.
They desire the highest
Require the best,
And never seem to let you rest!
Remember, not all are thorned
But please be warned!
(Samantha Marfleet)

A TALE OF ROMANCE
Two different people.....
Two different kinds.....
Two different lives.....
One loves the other and the other loves the one
Uncertainty and conflicts slow their reunion
She lives for him.....
And He lives for her...
Like Romeo and Juliet their destiny is mystery
But, like all the passed lovers of before their time
There was "fate"
One would die for the other.....
And The other would die for the one....
What he never did she did....
What she never will he will....
Vows made, secrets unfold
They have decided their destiny
Forever and ever both hearts will remain as one

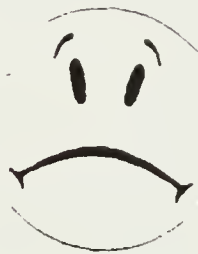

Their story passes down like all the other lovers
Who once had a tale told as well....
(Samantha Marfleet)

DON'T LET GO
Vulnerable..... Helpless.....
Her sweet face a mess, Lifeless.....
She stands silent and frail in her dress
Only a day and she's come a long way.
Head bowed, She makes a vow.
So truthfully pure, But she has to endure
Wind blows the golden hair upon her head
And yet, she is still not dead
No brother's or sister's
Her feet are blistered, She utters a prayer
"Lord are you there? I want to die,
Please, let me lie. Let me be with you
Take my soul, He answers
"Don't Let Go!"

(Samantha Marfleet)

LIFELESS DEATH
Thoughts of death permeate my very being
Life is nothing, it has no meaning
Is it the beginning of the end,
Or the end of the beginning?

Some live to die
Others die to live
Which one am I?
Not one nor the other
I do not want to live
Nor did I ask to die
Living Death, here am I

Life is but an empty grave
To be filled with this corpse some day
This wretched candle grows dim
Thoughts seem to close in

My grave is set
Let me lie
Life is over
Death is nigh

(Lisha Ann Sablan)

MANU SAMOA
MANU SAMOA
You're the pride of Samoa
And we hope that you play
More and more
Even though you didn't win the world cup
Manu Samoa please don't give up
Go out there and make us proud
And let us hear the crowd shout loud
Make ten scores or maybe more
For your homeland Samoa!

(Faletao and Ruby)

THE NUCLEAR BOMB
It is like a sickness that sweeps across the land
Spreading it's fumes everywhere and destroying things at hand
The noise is deafening
The disasters are frightening
And what a terrible sight it is to see.

Famine and hunger everywhere
People crying out for a penny to spare
Deformed babies go crying by
And the nuclear bomb explodes and dies
Leaving disasters across the miles

(Shanika Yapa)

Because he stood up for his right
He was murdered one night
All this because he had a Dream
He was Martin Luther King.

(Lisha Ann Sablan)

NUCLEAR BOMB

Nuclear bomb
Oh nuclear bomb
What did you do?
Yesterday I had one head
Today I have two

(Lisha Ann Sablan)

THE FAT CAT

There was a fat cat
Who sat on a rat
And made it flat

(Lisha Ann Sablan)

MY MOTHER

My mother will always be here for me
How, when I grow up I want to be
She raised me up with tender care
And when I need help, she's always there
She teaches me about my God above
And always gives me everlasting love
She is a beautiful mother
Just like a Honolulu flower

(Pepe Alofa)

Without You

No I can't forget this evening
Your face as you were leaning
You always smile
But in your eyes
I can't forge tomorrow
When I think of all my sorrows
When I had you there but I let you go
Now it's only fair that I should let you know

Girl Friend

You're been crying, your face is a mess
Come in babe, you can dry your tears on my dress
She's hunting you again I can tell
Oh I know that look so well
What's your hurry, please don't hit and run
We can make it, wait my darling it's been so long
Oh I won't ask to know I don't really care
Knowing it will be like it's always been before
But I guess that you're just the way the story goes
You always smile but in your eyes your sorrow shows

(Pepe Alofa)

MY SCHOOL

CCWS is the name of my school
Our uniform colours are yellow and blue
Bro Tanava is the name of our principal
Our school and class rules are nice and simple
We got the best facilities in Samoa
But still every year we get more and more
In school we also learn about Christ
In a different subject, "Religion" which is very nice
To be successful you must study
Some take it seriously but some think it's funny
The main language we speak is English
You remain speaking it in school until you finish.

THE NEXT TIME

We were there together in the dark
Like a spark that made it better

When He held my hand
I felt like I couldn't stand
And what made it even worse
Was the curse
He gave, just by looking straight into his eyes
I'm not saying they looked like pies
But they were like stars
Twinkling in Mars

I knew I fell in love with a dove
So kind, with a mind
And so romantic and frantic
Now that it is over
Between these two clovers
When will the next time be?
or will it even be or she??

"DEATH AND LOVE"

Though I am young, and cannot tell
Either what death or love is well
Yet I have heard they both bear darts
And then again I've been told
Love wounds with heat, as death with cold
So that I fear they do but bring
Extremes to touch, and mean one thing

As in a ruin, we call it
One thing to be blown up or fall
Or to our end-like way may have
By a flash of lightning or a wave
So loves inflamed shaft or brand
May kill as soon as death's cold hand
Accepts love's fires the virtue have
To fright the frost out of the grave.

Sally Ah To

A TOMB UPON HUSBAND AND WIFE

WHICH DIED AND WERE BURIED TOGETHER

To these whom death again did wed
This grave's their second marriage bed
For though the hand of fate could force
Twixt soul and body a divorce
It could not sunder man and wife
Because they both lived but one life
Peace, good readers, do not weep
Peace, the Lovers are asleep
They, sweet turtles, folded lie
In the last knot they could ever tie
And though they lie as they were dead
Their pillows stone, their sheets of lead
Love made by the bed: They'll take
No harm let them sleep, let them sleep on
Till this stormy night be gone
Till the eternal morrow dawn
Till the curtains will be drawn
And they awake into a light
Whose day shall never die in night

MOTORCYCLE

A motorcycle has wheels
It's colour is black as an eel
It's nice to ride on it and eat popcorn
But it kills people when it doesn't have a horn

It can go fast like a deer
And you can ride on it with your sincerely dear
It is expensive like a car
And can travel very far

(Kiri Ismasi, Lolmata and Valoleti)

RICH MAN

I want my father to be rich
This is the only thing I wish
I want to travel around the world
And rest in the centre of the earth

Rich Man lives and easy life
Spends lots of money buying a new wife
Money, the only thing on his mind
That is why they are never kind
They use money as a child's toy
Which can never bring them joy

(Eterel Toleafoa Salo)

REMEMBER

Remember me when you are gone away
Gone away into the silent way
You leave me in the world of loneliness
Never forget the days of happiness

You didn't say goodbye or say a word
When it was time for you to leave this world
You do everything that you can
You tell me everything that you plan

That is why I give my promise to you
And hope that our dreams will soon come true
One man said, It's easy to say "Hi"
But It's really, really hard to say good-bye

(Eterel Toleafoa Salo)

WHAT IS A BOOK?

What really is a book?
And give thanks as I pray
Have you ever had a look?
A book is a whole lot of writing
Meant to be very inviting

Sometimes it is worth reading
Other times not worth believing
But to understand it's meaning
You have to be very giving
In both the body and spirit
As they say you have to read it
To believe it

(Crystal Slade)

FREE

Pain locked in its cage
O agony, buried deep,
Slammed the door in the face of rage
All within these shadows of sleep

Driving this dream
With me in control
Everything is as it seems
In peace with my soul

Waiting once again, for time to pass by
To shine unto the shadows
As I let out a silent sigh.....
I am awake.....

(Phaedra Moors)

SCHOOL

If school was meant to be cool
Then how come I feel like a fool
Its aspects are so simple
Yet it makes me more than nimble
The passing grade is a C

Only, I always get a D
Kissing up to the teacher
Makes a kid look like a bleacher
As you see my knowledge of a class would
I am know! as a flunker
And I am found in the bunker

(Crystal Slade)

DYING CHEMIST'S PRAYER

I did not think to die
Before I had finished what I wanted to do
But now I'm gone
The job left undone
Never to be touched by these mortal hands
They lay i still in a far away lab
Across times and sands.

If I had been promised but one more year
To accomplish what I had
Then this mortal soul
Would have been at rest with death.

But Alas, I was not
And now I'm gone
Ta Ta, Farewell
Goodbye, So long.

(Lisha Ann Sablan)

MASTERPIECE

Curtains closed
She has taken her bow
The crowd has gone wild
She played an extraordinary child
The sign on her face
Shows she's very amazed
Her performance was great
Flowers in hands, she stands straight
A curtsey here
And a kiss there
People seem to be everywhere
A show to remember
A show to live upon
A show which will go on and on

(Samantha Marfleet)

QUESTION

Dawn breaks across the sky
The sun she rises
The moon he dies
Where they sleep no one knows
Where they go no one knows
I would ask
But they would not say
So I must wait till another day

(Lisha Ann Sablan)

YESTERDAY

Sitting here with nothing to do
But close my eyes and think of you
Your smile was bright and your eyes would shine
And I'll forever be proud to call you mine
But now all I see is a cloud of gray
I wish you were here like you were yesterday

(Desmond Maugatal)

IGNORANCE

Because he was black
He was left in the back
Because his belief was strong
He was thought to be wrong

Johannas and Lanuola Keil with only one month's training took off for the Cook Islands along with other representatives from a few local Colleges (St. Joseph's, Avele, Samoa College) sponsored by Lotto Samoa and Reebok. Johannas part - took in the High Jump, 200m, 4x1 while Lanuola played in the 200m, 400m, 800m. Both made it into the Semi - finals.
